Instructions for scheduled Induction
At
Hackensack University Medical Center (HUMC)

Our staff member will schedule your induction and inform you the date and time for you to contact the hospital for availability of room.

Please call the labor department one hour before your appointment time at 201-996-4444 to see if any room is available for your induction.

Since induction is as optional procedure priority is given to pregnant women in labor and other emergency deliveries.

Your wait time can be 1 - 36 hours before you receive a call back from the labor department when to come in. Please have patience because this is how the hospital schedule's for induction patients' works.

Dr. Roohi Kamal or any member of her staff cannot expedite your availability of a room at the hospital for your induction.
